

Chipstead Rugby Union Football Club

Players - Code of Conduct Policy

Discipline (Seniors & Juniors)

The club is bound by the laws and bye laws of the Rugby Football Union including, in particular, those relating to misconduct and dangerous play, and will take appropriate action under these laws in the case of any player whose conduct on the field is unacceptable.

Verbal and physical abuse of any match officials, are taken very seriously. The Special Disciplinary Committee (RFU) can suspend the club for a prescribed period following a serious abuse. Reference: Discipline Instructions 10.2. in the RFU Handbook & Delegation of Powers clause 2.6.

All club members should be aware that rules of the club provide for termination of membership of any member whose conduct on or off the field is found to be unacceptable. The club will take action against any individual bringing the club into disrepute.
